WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT CONTRACTORS

NEVER BUY A PRODUCT, BUY A CONTRACTOR

You can be assured that you are getting the top quality contractor you deserve just by asking a few questions before you decide who will be your contractor. Knowing how much the job will be and when it can be schedule is not enough.

1. How long has the contractor been in business and how many jobs like yours has he completed?
2. Does the contractor have adequate references to give you? Ideally, references in your neighborhood?
3. Does the contractor have a license and is he properly insured? If not, do you have adequate insurance coverage?

PREPARATION IS THE MOST IMPORTANT

Consider the following to insure satisfaction and trouble-free service. A top quality finish takes the proper materials used according to the proper specifications. The preparation for a paint or paperhanging job is the most important part of the job. If a house does not receive extensive and through preparation, the actual finished product, no matter how good, will only last 2-3 years. For a home that has been properly prepared with all of the necessary steps, the work will last at least 6-7 years.

1. Is the contractor's work guaranteed in writing?
2. What are the contractor's steps to thoroughly prepare the areas to be worked on?
3. What about unforeseen or unknown extra costs? Will you be advised of different options?
4. Does the contractor have any special requirements?
